YOUNG HOTEL'S CHRISTMAS EVE ENTERTAINMENTS

Special arrangements are being made by the management of the Young Hotel for the celebration of Christmas eve.

In the rathskeller the three entertainers, who have become so popular since the opening of the social season last Saturday, will appear during the dinner hour, alternating with instrumental music. The latter will be under the direction of Professor Milner.

In the cafe a Hawaiian orchestra will render selections.

Both in the cafe and rathskeller the programs will begin at 6:30 and continue until 9 o'clock.

At 9:30 the festivities will be transferred to the roofgarden, where a dancing pavilion has been provided. The three ladies mentioned will again furnish entertainment, the interludes being filled by Hawaiian music and dancing. The musical program on the roofgarden will terminate at 11:30, but at that hour it will be resumed in the rathskeller, which will remain open until 1 a. m.—Adv.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS MAUI LIABLE IN SUIT

Exceptions taken by the defendant in the case of Charles Rheinhardt against the county of Maui, a suit for damages arising from a defective highway, were overruled in a decision handed down by the supreme court today. The plaintiff claimed that he fell into a ditch and sustained injuries, the county bridge over the ditch having been washed away during a freshet.

ALUMNI MEET STANFORD GLEE MEN AT DOCK; TO GIVE CONCERT TONIGHT

Men of Cardinal Will Be at Luau at Pleasanton; to Visit Sugar Mill Tomorrow

Welcomed by a good-sized reception committee of Honolulu Stanford alumni, the Stanford University Glee Club singers arrived this morning on the Great Northern, were piled into a big sightseeing automobile decorated so that all who ran might read, and were shown the city with thoroughness and despatch. This afternoon they will be guests at a genuine Hawaiian luau at the Pleasanton at 5 o'clock.

On the reception committee of local Stanford men who welcomed their college brethren at Pier 6 when the liner arrived, were S. C. Kennedy, '12; M. B. Carson, '12; Johnny Wilson, '14; W. Oudorkink, '14; Henry Beckley, '00; William Argabrite, '13; F. W. Wichman, '14; M. B. Henshaw, '13; and J. A. Gibb, '15.

On the trip over the students took part in a concert following the captain's dinner Tuesday night, at which Capt. Ahman and Mrs. Jack London led the grand march, and Clifford Kimball, manager of Haleiwa hotel, acted as master of ceremonies.

Tonight the club will appear in concert at the Hawaiian Opera House, and indications are that a capacity audience of Stanford alumni and all who love good music and college fun will greet them. Following is the program they will sing this evening:

Three for Jack (Squire); A Little Love, a Little Kiss (Slesu); The Land of the Sky-blue Water (Cadmian); solo by Gangstad; Annie Laurie (Gibbel); Invictus (Huhn); Patten, presenting songs of Harry Lauder; Rockin' in de Win' (Neidlinger); Rag Time Song Revue; Sands o' Dee (Clay); Hall, Stanford, Hall! Tomorrow the club will be entertained at J. A. Gibb's country house at Honolulu plantation, and will witness sugar-grinding processes, as the first of the new crop of cane will be ground there tomorrow.

The club's personnel is as follows: First tenors, F. Galliano, L. Farrer, George Lulis, O. Gilliland; second tenors, Ray Gangstad, J. Bennett, J. S. Higley, C. A. Famsler, R. Boyd; first basses, J. Maltby, Charles Joyce, O. Ghrist, H. H. Hussey; second basses, Ed Stanley, Herb Stanley, H. D. Chiles, H. M. Mack; stunt men, J. R. Morgan, Tommy Reynolds, Lionel Pedley, Roy Gangstad, Jimmy Patten, E. C. Behrens, F. M. Matson, R. H. Garrett, H. S. Cathcart.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Honolulu Lodge of Perfection, No. 1, will hold a regular meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The various departments of the Library of Hawaii will close at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Lewers & Cooke, Ltd., is sending to friends and patrons a small, neatly bound notebook as a Christmas greeting.

Several special homestead agreements, homestead leases and transfers were signed yesterday by Governor Pinkham covering land in Oahu, Kauai and Hawaii.

The Guardian Trust Company, Ltd., is reminding its friends of the holiday season with a convenient note and bill-book of pocket size, enclosed in a pretty little box.

Each and every allegation made by Mary F. Naves in her complaint against the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company, an action for damages, is denied by the company in its answer which was filed in circuit court yesterday.

Canadian Westinghouse Co., Ltd., declared a quarterly dividend of 5 per cent.

CULMANS' READY FOR XMAS TRADE

New and Enlarged Stock Has Been Put in Since New Partner Took Interest

Enlarged and rearranged, Culman's Jewelry and Curio store at Fort and Hotel streets is this Christmas much better equipped than it has ever been before. Harry Culman, former sole owner, has sold a half interest to A. S. Conningham, who came here two months ago from San Francisco and the store has branched out with a newer and larger line of jewelry.

One of the specialties of Culman's is platinum and gold jewelry made in special designs and made to order. There is also an interesting line of gold watches of the best makes at all prices.

Hawaiian jewelry, with the coat of arms of the former kingdom, is still one of the leading offerings. Culman was the first to introduce this novelty here and has always made it a feature, as well as ancient calabashes. Some of the most perfect calabashes on the island are on the shelves in this store, and there are some handsome ukuleles.

Christmas cards, of which the store has an excellent variety, have been in great demand this year, and Mr. Conningham says the sale has surprised him. Culman's will be open tonight and tomorrow night.

The little daughter of John T. Scully, convicted opium handler, lies at the point of death in the Queen's hospital. It was reported from the hospital today that there is absolutely no hope for the child, who is only about four years old.

BROWNIE

How about the Youngsters?

Have you thought to give them a BROWNIE?

The Brownie Camera, made by the Kodak factories, will prove a great incentive toward clean, healthful play; there's something or other about it that is simply fascinating. You'll find that it is easy to keep your little ones occupied and out of mischief by giving a Brownie.

They will have no trouble in making good pictures; the operation, just like all Kodak products, is extremely simple.

Brownies from $1.00 up.
